

Phoenix

NORTHEAST PHOENIX • SUNNYSLOPE
BILTMORE • EAST PHOENIX

azcentral.com

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 2007

Looking for just a little fame?

Try signing up for the 2007 Almost Famous Film Festival, a 48-hour, short-film challenge, otherwise known as A3F. Inside today

Dining out

Check out readers' dining recommendations when we asked you to list where you love to take people. Inside today

Have something to brag about?

Submit photos of special people in your life. E-mail phx.bragbook@arizonarepublic.com with the names, ages and home city of those photographed.

LOCAL PEOPLE

Robert Nanberg has joined the Children's Museum of Phoenix Board of Directors. Nanberg is co-owner and managing general partner of Team Shop Premiums, an ad specialty distributor of premiums and promotional products in downtown Phoenix. He is involved in consulting projects such as store design and merchandising for the Phoenix Art Museum and the National Italian American Sports Hall of Fame in Chicago. He serves on the boards of Phoenix Suns Charities, the Salvation Army and an advisory council to The Sister Cities Program.

Sandy Abalos, managing partner of Abalos & Associates, PLLC, was recently named 2007 Entering Woman of the Year by Entprising Women Magazine. Previously, Abalos received the Small Business Administration's National Accountant Advocate of the Year Award, and is a member of the U.S. SBA National Advisory Council and a director of Western National Bank. She serves on the Executive Board and Board of Directors for the Phoenix Metro Chapter of the National Association of Women Business Owners and heads the organization's Public Policy Committee. Other awards include The Small Business Administration, Working Women Magazine and Arizona

Phoenix-based advertising and public relations agency E.B. Lane has hired Jeanne Grainger as senior account supervisor. Grainger will oversee strategic planning and tactical public relations for clients, including the American Foundation and Arizona Alzheimer's Consortium. Among the companies she has worked are the Olympic Venture Partners, a firm that invests capital in new companies in growing markets and AskMe Corporation, which provides software and pro-

Jay Lohman, founder and president of Lohman Company, PLLC, a certified public accounting firm, has selected partner Craig A. Lohman, CPA, CITP to serve on W.P. Carey's School of Accountancy Professional Advisory Board at Arizona State University. Lohman is responsible for managing the firm's audit and accounting

If you know a person who has done something interesting or has been honored in some way, we want to know about it. Send a note to The Arizona Republic, Local People Section, 200 E. Van Buren St., Phoenix, AZ 85004, or e-mail localpeople@arizonarepublic.com.